Preferred Citation

Ambit Poetry Magazine Records, 1961-2000, Accession 197X-0005R , Rare Books and Manuscripts, Special Collections Library, University Libraries, Pennsylvania State University.

Arrangement

The collection is organized into six series: general correspondents, individual correspondents, rejections, Francis Fytton's The Nation Within, issues, and miscellaneous.

Administrative History Note

Ambit, the British poetry journal, was founded in London in 1959 by Martin Bax as a quarterly of poetry, short fiction, original drawings and photographs, and criticism primarily by young writers and artists. It continues publishing to date under Bax's editorship. Co-editors include Edwin Brock, Henry Graham, Carol Ann Duffy, Mike Foreman, J. G. Ballard, Irving Wardle, and Henry Lowther.

Scope and Content

The collection covers the period 1961 to 2000, beginning with issue number 23. The editors' correspondence begins with 1961; the bulk of the materials (manuscripts and typescripts, illustrations, galleys, proofs, and copies of most issues) with 1965. There is only a small amount of financial material and related papers, for the most part enclosures to correspondence with the Arts Council of Great Britain. Finally, the collection also includes galleys and proofs of Francis Fytton's book, The Nation Within.
