* Editor Only is defined here as a journal reporting to us that inclusion in the publication is determined solely by the editor and internal editorial staff.

** Peer Review is defined here as a journal reporting to us that articles are accepted by the editor after consultation with other professionals acting as independent “jurists” or reviewers. By this we mean advisory board members or other scholars or professionals who read an article and comment to the editor on its merits.

*** Blind Peer Review is defined here as a journal reporting to us that the names of authors are not usually disclosed to reviewers.
